MUM Winner

RUBY KING

Plant Pat. Applied for. A proud new winner of the All-America Mum Selections award. This beautiful bright red, cushion-type Chrysanthemum, with its glossy dark green foliage and shapely plant habit, is the first red Chrysanthemum to win this high award. Plant it this very first year in your garden and you will join the All-America judges in pronouncing it superb!

Ruby King is quite distinct in its growing and flowering habits. During the summer months the plant is outstanding in the garden as it continues to break forth with new shoots and buds, making a mound effect. Then during late September it bursts forth with handsome bright red flowers and continues to bloom until severe cold weather sets in. The plant grows to approximately 15 inches in height, with a spread of 15 to 18 inches, making it ideal for beds and borders and for edging walks.

The Big 4 All-America MUM

For the first time, 1958 brings us All-America Mum Selections. Such big improvements are currently being made by hybridizers in the way of color, vigor, hardiness and healthiness that All-America Mum trials were set up to test and screen the most promising of these new creations. These tests are made in fifteen locations representing different soil and climatic conditions. The four beauties shown on these two pages are those chosen by the judges as the finest among those tested during the past three years. No wonder we're proud of them! Every one will come to you wearing a red, white and blue tag with a crown emblem as proof of its All-America rating.

BURNING BRONZE

Plant Pat. Applied for. Here is the very emblem of autumn—a tangy, beautiful Burning Bronze Chrysanthemum. The flowers are new and certainly exciting to look at with their mahogany-bronze color over a lively scarlet base, making a tingling medley of tangerine, bronze and orange. Burning Bronze, besides being a striking garden Mum, is excellent for cutting. The blooms are 2½ inches across, on a vigorous, 2½-foot bush. The marvelous cutting sprays are so warm in tone and so freely produced that one long remembers them as handsome pennants. They are an especial joy to flower arrangers who cherish copper, bronze and pewter containers.

There have been bronze-colored Mums before, but this is one you must have, for it definitely leads the field. You will no doubt want it as an edging, as part of your perennial borders, to dress up your rock garden in the fall. It will give great quantities of bloom for weeks. And for those who have new homes where permanent plants have not yet had a chance to become established, cushion Mums are a real help. Set them underneath that picture window, along that low fence or wall, and see how they cheer up your bare ground!

BURNING BRONZE

SHOWPIECE

Plant Pat. Applied for. This lovely Chrysanthemum is just what the name implies—a terrific showpiece loaded with massive, 4-inch flowers without disbudding. Sometimes the individual flowers are even a little larger. They are very full and shapely, with long, graceful petals faintly incurved at the center of the bloom. The color is a lovely sparkling royal rose with an entrancing silvery mist on the petal reverses and centers. The plant produces beautiful flower sprays on a strong, 2½-foot stem clothed with lush foliage. An ideal cut-flower Mum as well as for your garden, lasting an amazingly long time both on the bush and when cut and brought indoors. Makes a lavish floral display from late September until hard frost. A Showpiece for every garden, easy for everyone to have—even a novice—because it is so healthy and dependable. No excuse now for a sad and sorry autumn garden!

RUBY KING

Plant Pat. Applied for. "The best red cushion I have seen," remarked one of the All-America judges about Ruby King. And that is high praise, for All-America judges see plenty of red cushions! This is the Mum that emphasizes the value of the typical cushion Mum—solid and dependable performance under varying soil and weather conditions, compact growth, health, vigor and floriferousness. And when a plant like this is covered with blooms of smashing flame-red color, it is hard to beat.

This beautiful and distinctive variety has $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2-inch flowers of informal pompon type. The rich deep red color is highlighted with flame-red, with gold on the reverse side of the petals. Blooms are of firm substance, which adds to their lasting quality. The plant grows 12 to 15 inches tall, with equal or wider spread, and keeps busily blooming from late September or early October for a full month and usually until freezing weather. Buds tolerate frost well. It makes an attractive mound effect, with glossy green foliage and myriads of shining red flowers. Perfect for every use—as an edging plant, as a means of prolonging the beauty of a perennial border, as a late-summer specimen plant at doorstep, porch or gatepost. Make way for Ruby King! \$1.50 each; three or more, \$1.25 each, postpaid

EMPEROR

Plant Pat. Applied for. And here is the fourth of these brand-new All-America Mums. Like the others, it won excited and admiring comment in the test gardens. The large buds open to a delightful bright bronze with orange tints, becoming the richest of yellows, and when fully open the flowers display a fine clear lemon-yellow tone that rivals the fall sunshine. Emperor is a vigorous yet compact grower of medium height, with a generous spread. Foliage is lively green, to set off the flowers to advantage. The plant starts blooming in September and will continue until severe killing frost. The flat flowers provide light, airy sprays for arrangements, and a single plant will give as many as six or seven bouquets for the house.

KELLOGG'S AZALEAMUM TEST GARDEN

OUR TEST GARDEN

In our Azaleamum Test Garden, shown above, we grow several new varieties each year. From them we select the finest representatives, which will eventually be offered for sale through our catalog. Only after being observed over a two-year period by our plant specialists is a new Azaleamum chosen as a potential novelty to be offered to our customers. Our reputation as growers of the highest grade hardy garden Mums has been earned gradually through the years, and we believe the only way we can keep it is through meticulous testing of every new variety.

We invite you to visit our nursery in Three Rivers during the month of October when our fields are a blaze of beauty, with thousands and thousands of these Azaleamums in bloom. You will gain a new conception of the possibilities of these wonderful plants.

SUMMER SUNSET

TAM-O-SHANTER

WILL-O-THE-WISP

RED WITCH

SUMMER SUNSET

Plant Pat. 561. A very popular Azaleamum producing masses of flowers of rich apricot to light orange, taking on shades of buff which gradually change to deep rose or coral with traces of mauve. The healthy plant grows 15 inches tall and 15 to 18 inches broad. Greatly sought after for cutting.

SWEETHEART

Sweetheart blooms early and profusely, giving a super-abundance of beautiful bright warm shining pink flowers the very first season. One of the prettiest and finest of all pink Azaleamums. Grows to about 15 inches tall. A real sweetheart that will prove useful in practically any location. Who could resist its charms?

TAM-O-SHANTER

One of the earliest Azaleamums to bloom, and very unique in color. The first flowers in autumn weather give a two-tone bronze effect and later when the nights are cooler the color changes to orange. Flowers are not so double as some varieties but show a neat button center. Grows about 15 to 18 inches tall.

QUEEN ANNE

A very charming anemone-type white Azaleamum with loosely arranged, frilly petals and big, bright yellow center. Planted among other varieties, it emphasizes color contrasts very sharply. Maybe it will remind you of a wide-eyed little girl in starched, Sunday-School petticoats! It reaches a height of approximately 18 inches.

WILL-O-THE-WISP

One of the most appealing of all Azaleamums, with its delicate two-tone effect. The color is a soft lavender, shading to pink and white, with rich yellow center. Flowers are of medium size, with rounded petal tips. Grows to about 12 inches. Very attractive anywhere planted, and is especially nice for cutting.

WITCHES GOLD

Masses and masses of showy, rich golden yellow flowers, somewhat shaggy in form, with broad petals. In the clear bright sunlight they shine like a gold-piece. The plant grows about 18 inches tall and 30 inches wide, making a mound of color. Very cheerful indeed in the autumn garden, especially on dark days.

RED WITCH

Deep glowing burgundy-red, a favorite color, with a touch of gold at the center of the flower. Blooms are very plentiful and actually overlap on the plant. A bushy grower about 18 inches in height. Excellent for bouquets, where it gives a dramatic flair to an arrangement needing a rich dark color.

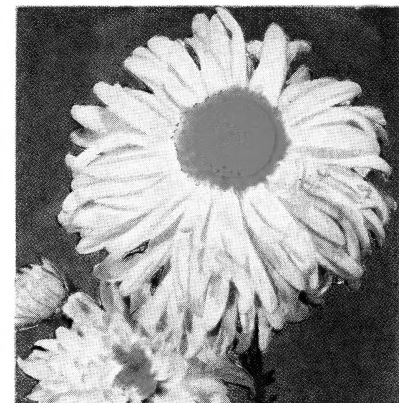

HONEY CHILE

Plant Pat. 871. This plant provides quantities of 1½-inch, very rich magnolia-purple flowers, giving the effect of dark pink and holding their color well through any kind of weather. A low and compact grower, about 12 inches high; early blooming. This warm, rich color will be popular in any garden.

Kellogg's Giant Pacific Hybrid DELPHINIUMS

THE KING OF ALL PERENNIALS

The glorious Delphinium dominates the summer garden. Because of its height (to about 4 feet), it needs to be planted as a background for the perennial border. Plants should be set at least 1½ to 2 feet apart to allow good air circulation; give them water during extra-dry spells.

The Pacific Hybrid Strain produces perfect spikes of tightly set florets, ideal for cutting, which are non-shattering and mildew-resistant. Colors range from white to blue, pink and lavender; some have white bees and others black. Plants set out in spring will have some flowers by September and will bloom heavily the next June. Our plants are grown from some of the finest hybrid seed obtainable.

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE-Order by Mail

"The National Mail Order Nurserymen's Association is comprised of 138 highly reputable mail-order nursery firms and associates who organized for a number of practical and public-spirited reasons. The member nurseries meet regularly to exchange information and ideas, with particular emphasis on ways of promoting their industry by serving you quickly, efficiently and economically.

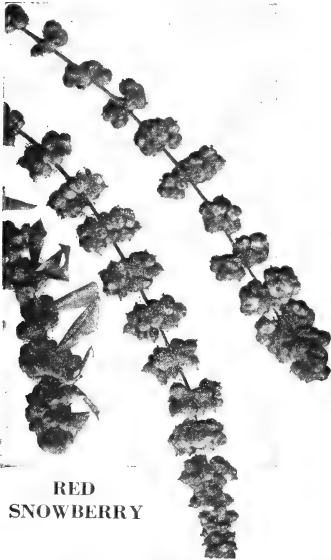

"In recent years a new and unfair competition developed in the horticultural mail-order field, in which promoters with little or no nursery experience set up business and used sensational methods to publicize their products. Fanciful new names for old well-known plants were devised, extravagant performance claims were made, prices were often exorbitant and quality was frequently sub-standard. To help end these unscrupulous methods the National Mail Order Nurserymen's Association, working with the American Association of Nurserymen, consulted the Federal Trade Commission. As a result of close cooperation between these various agencies, a set of trade practice rules for the nursery industry was promulgated on June 27, 1956. Obviously the members of the N.M.O.N.A. will work together to protect and enforce these principles, and you, as a gardener, may buy with complete confidence when you see this insignia."

The above article was published by the National Mail Order Nurserymen's Association, and we are very proud to display the emblem and follow the principles of the Association. This guarantees you first-class stock and fair treatment in all transactions. Remember Kellogg's is one of the oldest nurseries in the trade today and still the leader.

Ornithogalum thyrsoides

(THE AFRICAN WONDER FLOWER)

When trying to secure something new and different for our customers, we found this beautiful flower being grown in abundance in South Africa. We note that European countries have taken to this new flower "like ducks to water." It has also been grown throughout the United States very successfully. It is truly called the "Wonder Flower" because it produces beautiful white blooms in abundance on strong stems about 15 inches long. The flowers, when cut as they first start to show color, will last three to four weeks in the home. They also make beautiful arrangements among other flowers. Plant the bulbs any place Gladiolus will grow. They should be dug in the fall and stored over winter in the same manner as Gladiolus and Dahlias.

FLATTED BEGONIAS

Why not make it easy for yourself and start with Begonias already potted, as shown above? These tubers are planted in an attractive 2¼-inch aluminum pot. All you have to do is set the pot in a saucer in the window and give it water. When the plant has reached a height of 3 to 4 inches, reset it in a larger pot and use it as a house plant, or transplant to the garden as soon as danger of frost has passed. State color wanted: Scarlet, Crimson, Yellow, Rose, White, Salmon, Copper or Orange. 98c each; 3 for $2.85; 6 for $5.40; 12 for $9.95, postpaid.

Another good way to get your Begonias off to an early start is to order a flat of 30 Begonia tubers, size 1½ to 2 inches. These tubers are planted correctly in peat. As soon as you receive them, put them in the basement or sun porch—wherever it is warm. Water the flat to keep the peat moist, and soon you will see the sprouts start. These may be transplanted directly from the flat to the garden, which will give you earlier blooms in the summer. Please state colors wanted. 30 tubers, including flat, only $9.95, postpaid.

JUNE BEARING

➤ ARMORE

Large, firm, bright cherry-red fruit that keeps and ships well to distant markets. The strong, prolific plants bear over a long period and make a good fruiting row. The most distinctive feature is the uniform shape of the berries. Compares with Premier in quality. Superior handling and shipping qualities and is more productive on old land than most varieties. Remains large size even for the last pickings. Recommended for areas where Premier is successful.

➤ BLAKEMORE

The "Premier of the South." The best early shipping variety for that region; not recommended for growing north of Maryland or the Ohio Valley. The firm, bright red berries are medium to large when plants are not too thick in the bed. They ripen uniformly and can stand abuse in picking and shipping. The flavor is quite tart. Popular with commercial canners and packers. Very vigorous.

➤ FAIRLAND

A very fine midseason to late variety that ripens a few days after Temple and continues over a long season. A robust grower with free production of new runners; resistant to red stele disease. Very heavy yielder, ranking with Premier and Catskill in this respect and especially recommended for northern states. Needs moist soil for best results. Bright red berries, almost as large as Temple, are firm enough for shipping a moderate distance.

✓ SENATOR DUNLAP

An older variety, grown in the middle and northern states for many years and especially appreciated in Maine, Iowa and Minnesota. A very strong, high-yielding plant; very hardy. Berries are of medium size, bright rich red color all the way through and of good quality. This is one of the best sorts for canning purposes. Sweet, delicious flavor. A bisexual sort, best grown in narrow rows.

➤ VERMILION

A new Strawberry produced in Illinois, where leading fruit growers are especially enthusiastic about it. An early bearer with a harvesting season that lasts about two weeks in early June. Well-formed, medium to large berries, smooth and very glossy. Attractive dark red color; more aromatic than most varieties. A vigorous plant, resistant to red stele, leaf spot, leaf blight, etc. Very prolific.

➤ SPARKLE

Sparkling, glossy red berries of good round form, of only medium size but very freely produced. Bright rich red, becoming darker. The berries are smaller on very thick beds and in dry seasons. When grown as far south as Maryland the berries are rather soft, but farther north Sparkle has proved topnotch. Quality is excellent, though not quite so good as Fairfax. It has a very long, late ripening period. Rates high as a freezing variety. Almost immune to red stele disease. Very vigorous and productive.

NEW HARDY EVERMORE

EVERBEARING

NEW HARDY EVERMORE

One of the finest everbearing Strawberry plants produced, particularly for the upper midwest and north. In productiveness it is the equal of any other everbearer. Produces plenty of runners and is vigorous and healthy. Firm, dark, nice-looking berries of good quality. Does not spoil in hot weather. Ships well. Excellent marketing berry.

➤ GEM

The standard everbearer, which has yielded good returns for a number of years. The healthy, vigorous, productive plants are not so large as some, but if given a good early start will often make so many plants that thinning is necessary. The berries are large in size, of light red color and firm enough to stand shipment to distant markets. Delicious, somewhat tart flavor. A moneymaker that has stood the test of time; also excellent for home gardens.

➤ STREAMLINER

Gives big, profitable crops in six months or less. The large, attractive berries are borne in spring as well as fall; by September it fruits so heavily that it is sure to be a profit-maker. The berries are almost round and are well colored to the center, with no green tips and never hollow. They are wonderful for serving fresh, canned or frozen, so sweet that they require little sugar. Very hardy and prolific. Does well on either clay or sandy loam.

➤ SUPERFECTION

This is an exceptionally large, round berry, red to the center and of very pleasing flavor. It is a bit acid but with some sugar it is delicious. Excellent for canning, preserving and jams. Also good for freezing and eating fresh. The berries will not discolor after being picked and will stand long-distance shipping without deterioration. One of the best everbearers ever introduced. Bears through the summer and fall season until cold weather. In fact, berries have even been picked at Christmas time. It is a vigorous grower, producing new plants freely. Superfection has all the superior qualities needed for a leading commercial and home variety.

PREMIER — The Twelve-Point Variety

Kellogg's Premier has more good points than any other variety. Here they are:

1. Extra Early—No worthwhile variety fruits earlier. High prices mean more profit.
2. Resists Frost—Very essential with an early variety. Frost hardly touches Kellogg's Premier.
3. Fruits Long—Nearly as late as most other varieties. Berries hold up well throughout the season.
4. Extra Large—Size attracts attention, buyers; big profits.
5. Well Shaped—See picture.
6. Solid—One of the best market varieties. Ships well for long distances.
7. Healthy—Seldom touched with disease. Foliage is tough, dark green, glistening and leathery.
8. Beautifully Colored—Red clear through. Buyer's delight.
9. Best for Preserving and Freezing—Retains shape and color.
10. Easy to Grow—Withstands drought, excess moisture, does well under all conditions.
11. Bi-Sexual—Does not require mating.
12. Delicious—A fine table berry. Makes customers come back again and again, bringing profits for you.
